Your Proposed Rule on dietary supplement labeling will have an adverse affect on public health by placing arbitrary and capricious limits on the allowable health information that can be presented to customers at the point of sale on dietary supplements. Your definition of disease is overly broad, and you are clearly overreaching your legal authority.

I urge you to withdraw your proposed rule that enables the FDA to censor information about dietary supplements.

ADDITIONALLY: I request that you forward this message to Drs. Yetley and Moore at the FDA Officer of Special Nutritionals, to urge them to demand the complete withdrawal of the German Codex Proposal, which diametrically opposes US Law.

Thank you,
Sharon Danhof
